Enjoy a feast of succulent meats with Yorkshire pudding and vegetables at Farquhar's Bar's Weekend Roast.

Raise a toast to a good roast

MANKIND has long found pleasure in gathering over a good barbecue and devouring succulent meats dripping with juiciness. In England, it gave rise to the practice of Sunday Roast which spread across the world with colonisation.

Though its popularity in Penang dwindled after the end of colonial rule, one can still enjoy the timeless tradition in all its chargrilled glory.

Simply head to Farquhar's Bar of Eastern and Oriental (E&O) Hotel in George Town between noon and 4pm every Saturday and Sunday.

The Weekend Roast — so named because it is served on two days rather than one — is a hearty celebration of meats and vegetables.

Priced at a value-for-money RM75.80nett per person, the buffet features a trio of juicy cuts including Roast Beef, which can be rib eye or sirloin.

Otherwise, have the chefs carve you slices of the equally tasty Slow-Cooked Lamb Shoulder and Roast Chicken Breast with sage and onion stuffing.

Drizzle on traditional brown gravy, and mop it up with another roast prerequisite — Yorkshire Pudding.

Sides come in the form of Goose-fat Roasted Potatoes, Seasonal Vegetables and Mushy Green Peas Soup, dessert and fruits complete the line-up.

Pair your feast with the Cocktails of the Month, priced at RM35nett per glass. For March, they are Peach Margarita and Passion Fruit Mojito.

The former brings together tequila, triple sec, peach Monin and lime juice in an icy concoction, while the latter is sure to refresh with a mix of rum, lime juice, passion fruit Monin, mint and club soda.
